The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) seeks comment on a petition filed by Securus Technologies, LLC asking the Commission to waive sections 64.6030, 64.6080, and 64.6090 of its rules, which require inmate calling services (ICS) calls to be charged to customers on a per-minute basis.

According to the Petition, Securus began piloting subscription plans for intrastate calls in 2020 and now offers these plans at eight correctional facilities. Under these plans, “subscribers pay a flat monthly fee for up to 100 calls per month or 25 calls per week.” Securus asserts that its subscription plan pilot program is in jeopardy because it “cannot definitively determine if a call is intrastate when a subscription plan call is made” since many of the calls are “made to wireless phones whose exact physical location is difficult to determine.” Thus, Securus claims that it must “treat potentially in-state but [jurisdictionally] indeterminate calls as interstate calls whose rates are limited to per-minute charges, jeopardizing the development and availability of flat-rate subscription plans for multiple calls.”

Worth Rises filed a response to the Securus Petition. Worth Rises argues that “Securus has not provided sufficient data in its waiver request for the Commission to determine the true per-minute rate range offered through its subscription packages and whether they generally conform to the Commission’s rate caps.” Worth Rises identifies four principal concerns with Securus’s subscription plans as described in the Petition—call length and usage data, dropped calls, unused calls, and renewals. Worth Rises suggests that the Commission should also require additional information from Securus before considering the waiver, including information on the policies related to the subscription programs and the “cost basis of the pilot subscription packages by pilot location.” Worth Rises requests that if the Commission grants the Petition, it should require Securus to base its subscription plans on minutes rather than calls, “limit Securus to selling packages of usage (e.g., 250 minutes) or time (e.g., unlimited monthly), but not both,” and “prevent automatic subscription renewals or require easily accessible termination options.”

The Bureau seeks comment on the Securus Petition. The Bureau also seeks comment on the additional information and data Worth Rises suggests the Commission should require before considering the Securus waiver request. Additionally, the Bureau seeks comment on the concerns Worth Rises raises regarding the Securus pilot subscription programs, including concerns relating to call length and usage, dropped and unused calls, subscription renewals, and the methods used to share initial disclosures and other subscription plan policies with customers.
